

Alpha 1 glycoprotein

General:

Alpha-1-glycoprotein is a polypeptide containing antenna-like oligosaccharides. Diagnostic significance as acute phase protein.

Indication: Detection of systemic infections

Material: 1 ml serum

TAT: 7-10 days*

Method: nephelometry

Units: mg/dL

Ref.-range: male : 50 - 130

female : 40 - 120

For complete list of laboratory test offered at Freiburg Medical Laboratory, please visit <http://www.fml-dubai.com/parameter-listings/>