

GAD antibodies

General:

Antibodies against GAD play an important role in the development of diabetes mellitus type-1. These antibodies persist for a long time (years) and are therefore the best marker in diagnosing D.m. type I.

Indication: Diagnosis confirmation of the diabetes mellitus I

Material: 1 ml serum

TAT: 7-10 days*

Method: EIA

Units: IU/mL

Ref.- range: <10.0

For complete list of laboratory test offered at Freiburg Medical Laboratory, please visit <http://www.fml-dubai.com/parameter-listings/>